NICK HORAN
OVOID SERIES

The egg, and the ovoid shape itself, is a life source and a mystery. What is contained within? What potential does it hold? What is behind its veneer — and how can something so delicate be so strong and in nite?

Superbly tapered, varied and with the potential to keep a life-form safe; the egg is a revolutionary design. It's nature's perfect capsule. It can nestle, it can support, it can roll, it can deliver life. Its surface tells stories — the mind can almost trace its patterns and entire landscapes can be imagined.

Life and the human condition can be jagged, so we're drawn to this untouched, natural object — a design before and beyond us. Its breakability and resilience is familiar to us. The need to produce something, whether by human design, or the ongoing magic of nature, is a driving force — these fine art pieces by Nick Horan speak to the endless life cycle before us, and celebrate the most pure and divine of nature's productions.

Series available in five sizes. Limited editions of 25. Museum-grade framing in either natural wood, stained charcoal, black or white. Dry mount framing with white border. Authenticity certificate with artist signature included. Additional options available.

*Prices include anti-reflective glass, excluding 50 & 60 inch which use acrylic.
