PRACTICE

Nicole Lawrence Studio exists as an exploration in the materiality of metalwork. Drawing on a history of jewelery, industrial and lighting design Nicole's practice has been a compelling progression across furniture and lighting, with each new design informing the next.

Driven by a love for artisanal practices and personal experimentation, NLS continually pushes the properties of metal through the marriage of traditional craftsmanship and new technologies.

PRODUCT

Nicole's practices spans across her in-house furniture and lighting range to custom and commission pieces.

Finding a companion in the graphic form, Nicole's meticulous manipulation of metal translates rigidity into fluidity - shaping metal into pieces that beckon interaction. The interplay of solidity and motion is central to her creations, inviting viewers to ponder the equilibrium between strength & delicacy.

PEOPLE

Drawing on invaluable knowledge and guidance from local technicians NLS pieces are not bound by metal alone. Through these relationships comes opportunities for customisation and constant product development.

Fostering ongoing partnerships with fellow designers and peers, this collaborative work with her immediate and global community is an invaluable aspect to the studio - something that allows Nicole to evolve and absorb all it has to offer.

Handmade in Melbourne, Table Lamp #1 is the result of a collaboration with jeweller Seb Brown. The lamp is a full-scale, functional interpretation of Brown's small sculpture work.

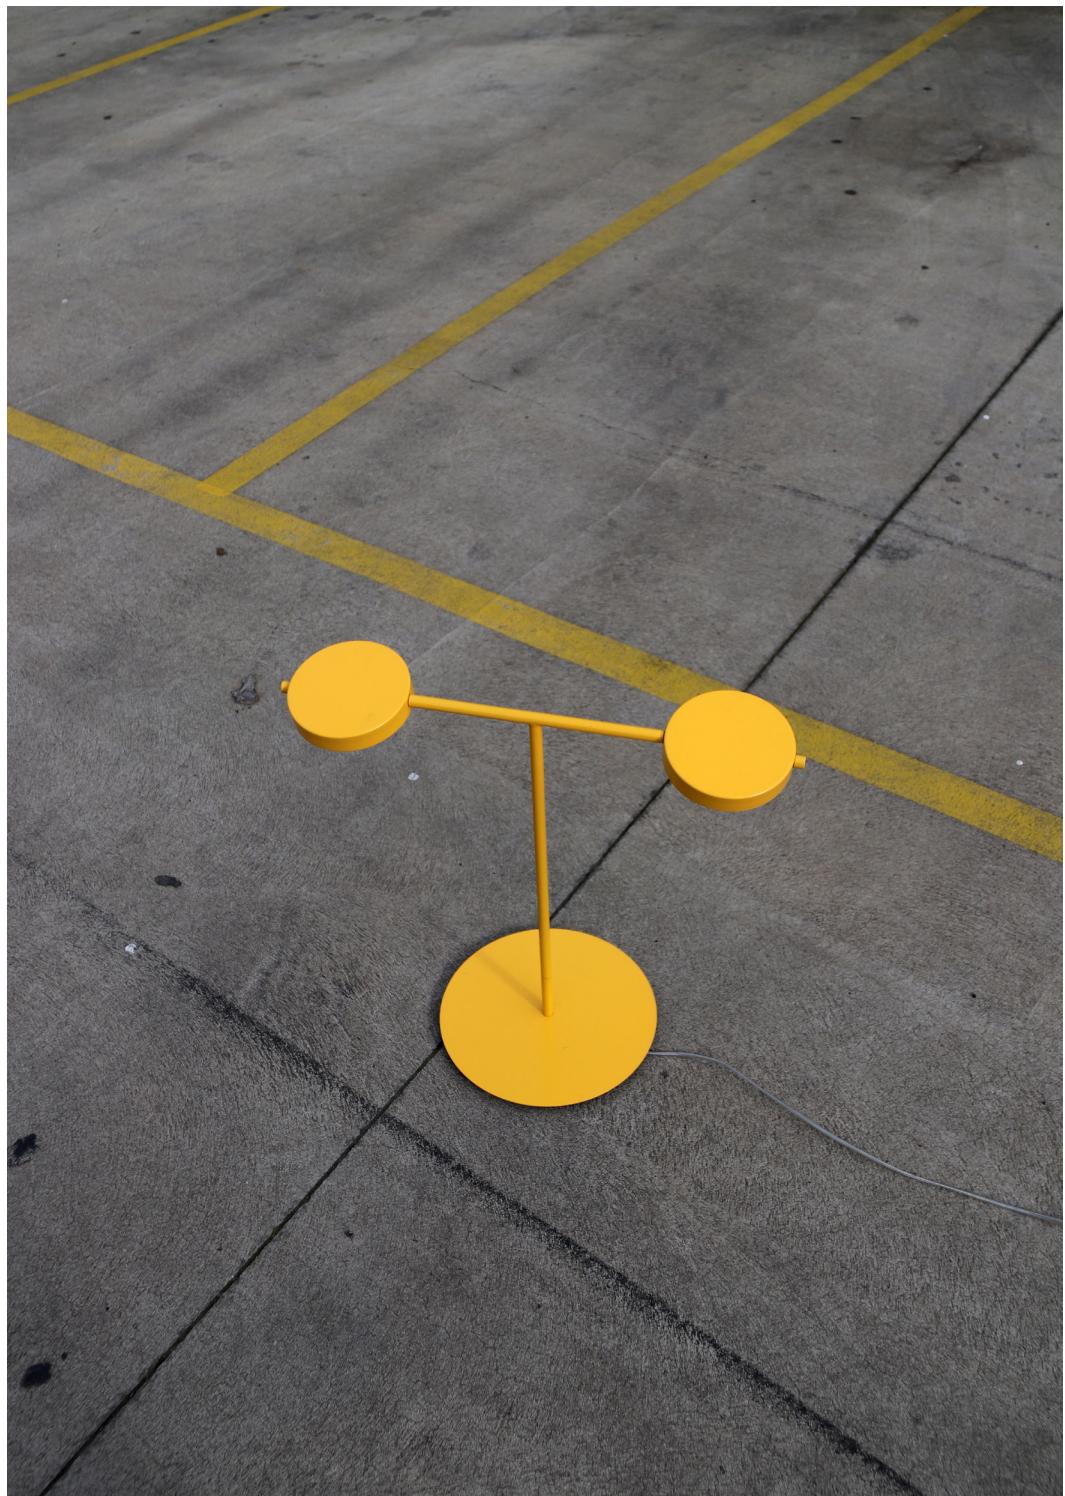

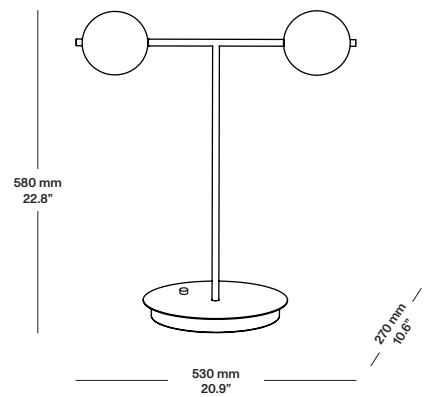

The articulated design allows the disc-shaped shades to rotate for dual functions of task or feature lighting, or both at once.

Dimmable LED bulbs provide warm-tinted mood lighting to full-task lighting for writing and making.
